FOUR MEN KILLED

And Eighty Horses Burned to Death in a Livery Stable.

Falling Walls Cause a Fearful Calamity—Firemen and Citizens Buried in the Ruins.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 9.—To-night fire was discovered in the large livery stables of Jesse Arnot, at Ninth and Chestnut streets. The flames spread so rapidly among the combustibles that it was with difficulty any of the horses could be removed. About forty animals were finally extricated from the burning building, but eighty horses were burned to death amid the most pitiable demonstrations of agony. About half an hour after the fire broke out the west wall fell out, letting the upper floors down, and several men were caught and buried. Four pipemen of No. 6 Engine Company were of the number, and one of them, John Finerty, is still under the ruins, or supposed to be, as he can not be found, and a pipeman standing beside him when the crash came is sure he was caught in the worst part. Jack McGrath, pipeman of the same company, was taken out seriously bruised and burned. The other firemen escaped with slight injuries. About a dozen men in all were caught, the others being employees and volunteers helping to carry out property. Charley Manach was taken out nearer dead than alive. He is now at the City Hospital, and will probably die. Wm. H. Cooney, son of the senior member of the Cooney Wagon Works, was badly injured, but will recover, as is the case also with Wesley Emerson, an employee. Two strangers, whose names could not be learned, were dangerously injured, and were taken to the hospital as soon as rescued. They were pulling out a boggy when caught by the crash. Almost the entire stable, a building one hundred feet wide, and running north and south from Chestnut to Market street, and three stories high, is now in ruins, only portions of the two fronts being saved. The loss, as now estimated, is fully $100,000. The fire burned very rapidly, but the horses were for the most part suffocated before it reached them and made little noise. At one o'clock this morning two bodies were taken from the ruins. One was an employee who had not worked at the stable very long, and whose name could not be learned to-day. The other was Captain Joseph Schimper, foreman of the No. 6 Engine Company. He was a married man, about forty years old, and had been in the department about fifteen years. He was something of an athlete, and eighteen years ago was a member of the famous Empire Base-Ball Club of this city, the crack club of the city and State, before the organization of the old Browns. He played under the name of Joe Chambers, and was better known in the fire department by that name than by his right name. He was made captain of the Sixes two years ago. Eyewitness Finerty, first reported killed, was taken out alive and will probably recover. The third body taken from the ruins at two o'clock this morning is supposed to be Morris Linderman, head usher of the Pope Theater. Another body, the fourth, has just been recovered. It proved to be John Gussaullos, a painter by trade, but recently employed as a street-car conductor.

Died From the Bite of a Pet.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 9.—Ten weeks ago J. T. Lane, who lived near Dewitt, was bitten in the ankle by a pet dog. Mr. Lane was treated by his physician and was quite well until a few days ago, when he was taken with a malady which, in some respects, resembled hydrophobia. He was in such mental terror that he became violently insane, and yesterday he was brought to this city, from where he was sent to Jacksonville for treatment. He was placed in the jail for a short time, and within two hours he was discovered dead in his cell.

Bomb Throwers in France.

LYONS, Feb. 9.—Two bombs were simultaneously exploded to-day in front of police headquarters' office in this city. The bombs struck against the railing and were thus prevented from expending their force on the building. At St. Etienne, thirty-two miles southwest of Lyons, a bomb was thrown at the police station. It exploded outside the office, but with such force that three of the officers within the building were seriously injured. Eight men have been arrested for alleged complicity in the latter outrage.

Double Drowning.

AKRON, O., Feb. 9.—Two men, one named Daniel Gilling and the other a friend of Gilling's, name unknown, attempted to cross the Cuyahoga river in a boat just above Monroe Falls. Gilling's cries brought men to the opposite bank, who saw him clinging to the ice. They ran a mile to a bridge to get across, and just as they got near on the other side he let go from exhaustion and drowned. His companion was never seen after starting out in the boat.

GENERAL BOULANGER.

Has a Leader Been Found to Work Franco's Revenge on the Hated Teuton?

BRUSSELS, Feb. 10.—The Revue Niederlicher has authentic information that General Boulanger, French Minister of War, is preparing for a movement of the troops to the eastern frontier. Four battalions of infantry are to go to Verdun and Toul, and quarters are being prepared to receive them. A brigade of cavalry will also go to Verdun, and provision trains to Toul. Four battalions in Algeria have been ordered to France. General Boulanger has instructed the Military Railway Committee to remain in permanent session. The Berlin Post's Paris correspondent writes: A deceptive calm followed your recent article referring to General Boulanger, but he is now more powerful than ever. Even his former opponents are turning toward him as the rising sun, finding it impossible to struggle against the growing popularity of the man who is regarded by the masses as the long expected liberator. The whole country is anxious for revanche, and is arming silently, but with the evident belief that the hour is coming.

Mauna Loa in Active Eruption.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The latest advices from Honolulu state that on January 15 the volcano Mauna Loa began emitting fire, smoke and lava, and has continued without ceasing since. The lava is running toward the sea, and unless its course is changed will do no serious damage. Rev. J. D. Paris writes from Kapaeha: "For thirty-six hours there has been one continuous series of earthquakes—tremulous jars, with pretty hard shakes interspersed, running into each other, and our house has seemed like a little craft or a bubble floating on a wavy-chopped sea. While I write my table rocks so that it is with difficulty I can keep my seat and hold my pen."

Lincoln's Hearse Burned.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.—Besides the pecuniary loss which resulted last night from the destruction of Jesse Arnot's livery stable, one loss was suffered, which is irreparable. The hearse in which the remains of President Abraham Lincoln were conveyed to their last resting place was consumed in the flames. This hearse was built by Mr. Arnot for that special purpose, and since that day has never been out of the building. Mr. Arnot had received many offers for this vehicle, but has always refused to part with it, preferring to retain it as a sacred relic.

Arrested for the Durham Murder.

WARSAW, IND., Feb. 10.—Joe Plew was arrested at Syracuse Station, a few miles east of the scene of the Durham murder and lodged in jail here. Durham's pocket-book and $5 were found on Plew's person. The pocket-book has been fully identified, and from his actions at the Syracuse depot there is no doubt he was waiting for a train. He was a farm-hand in the employ of Durham, and two weeks ago they had a quarrel and Plew was discharged. He threatened to get even. Mrs. Durham is growing stronger, but still unconscious.

Holocaust at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Fire broke out this morning at No. 109 Fort street, occupied by a Chinese laundry and Japanese fancy store. It communicated to the residence adjoining on the west. The affair created much excitement.

MICHIGAN FLOODS.

The Mad Waters Causing Great Damage.

Buildings at Lyons Washed Away and the People Panic-Stricken.

LYONS, MICH., Feb. 11.—The flood here is simply terrible. A panic has seized some of the people, and it is impossible to get estimates of the losses. The water in some places is four feet deep in many residences and the same state of affairs prevails in store-rooms. Every body is moving, or preparing to move. Up to last night three buildings had been washed away and demolished, and many others were badly damaged. Alexander McFarlane's family are sick and cut off from assistance. The Herald office has been boated to higher quarters, but the paper will be published as usual. Rain fell in torrents until about midnight, when it changed to snow, and by daylight fully eight inches of snow and sleet had fallen. There is a regular northeaster, with a twenty-mile wind. The water has risen two feet in the last four hours and is still rising. The people are worn out working night and day to save their property. The Maple and Grand rivers unite here, and both are raging. Should the Lansing ice reach here before the gorge gives way all the business places on the north side of Main street will be washed away. A rough estimate of the damage makes the aggregate between $75,000 and $100,000. Fred Winters, of Charlotte, was drowned when trying to cross the Thornapple river.

Lumber Statistics.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The Northwestern Lumberman in its issue of to-morrow will print statistics as to the lumber trade for the Northwest for 1886, with comparisons with the product of former years. The grand total of the white pine lumber product of the Northwest for 1886 was 7,452,398,000 feet. This is three hundred and seventy million feet in excess of the preceding year, and is only slightly short of the total cut for the years 1882-'85. The greatest gains were in the older milling districts. The grand total of the shingle product of the Northwest was 4,577,531,000 shingles, which is a larger volume than in any preceding year. Figures are cited as showing that the maximum annual lumber product of white pine districts has probably not yet been reached. The stock of lumber on hand at mills at the close of the year is placed at 3,068,000,000 feet or one hundred and seventy million feet less than at the close of 1885, and four hundred and fifty million feet less than in 1884. The stocks of shingles were thirty-five million more than in 1885 and two hundred million less than in 1884.

IMPORTANT, IF TRUE.

Statement of a Young Woman, Who Says Her Husband Was One of the McMunn Rescuers, and Gives the Names of the Others Who Were in the Fight.

MASSILLON, O., Feb. 13.—Late last night a young, well-dressed and intelligent woman went before Mayor Fratz and made a voluntary and voluminous statement, which is regarded as an important clue to at least the identity of the thugs who assaulted Hulligan and Hoehne at Ravenna. She gave her name as Margery Robinson, wife of Edward Robinson, nephew of John Robinson, the circus man, and says she was at Jennie Roger's house, 126 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, and assisted to secure the fur wraps stolen from Benedict & Ruddy, Cleveland, when they were taken there in trunks by an expressman. Her story condensed is that a regularly organized gang of crooks, numbering nineteen, have made Rogers' house their resort, and that three of them, Tom Hoddy, Joe Johnson, Smith Carson and her husband, went to Alliance, via Ft. Wayne road, the evening preceding the rescue of McMunn; that they returned to Pittsburgh the following Monday and that Johnson, who was shot in the encounter, went to Harrisburg and died there from the wound. She says that officers searched Rogers' house three different times while the furs were there and that they were stored in cupboards and an ice-box in the basement. In explanation as to why she came here, which was on Friday morning, to disclose the tale, she said the gang had threatened her life; that she did not intend from fear to give them away, but that after she came out of the opera-house last night she saw her husband, Hoddy and Carson on the street and knew they were after her. She appealed to the mayor for protection, and gladly consented to be confined in the city prison, where she now is, and will be detained until Monday evening awaiting a response from word sent to the chief of police of Pittsburgh. Minute descriptions were given of the trio, but diligent search failed to find them. A lengthy interview was had with the woman to-night. She is undoubtedly of sound mind, and exacted a promise that her name should not be used in connection with any report of her statement.

A STRANGE FUNERAL.

The Queer Sights Witnessed at the Burial of a Chinaman at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13.—Rarely has an event attracted so large a mob as was brought together to-day by the funeral of Wong Fung, a Chinese laundryman. He was a Mason of high rank, and half a dozen brother Masons came on from San Francisco to attend the obsequies. For nearly two weeks the body has been lying in state and to-day the ceremonies took place. By actual count 3,811 people passed through and took a look at the dead man. In the coffin were placed pieces of white and red muslin, a fan, a piece of paper scroll-work and a triangular slip of paper with Chinese inscriptions which symbolized his Masonic rank. The peculiar Chinese rites were then performed and a procession formed, carrying a large canopy, Chinese lanterns, flags and banners of various designs. The Chinamen made their way to the cemetery through a crowd of twenty thousand people, depositing their banners, together with dishes of rice, chicken, pork and sugar upon the grave.

The Dunham Tragedy.

WARREN, IND., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Henry Durham, of Kosciusko county, whose family was so horribly murdered last week, to-day fully recovered consciousness and sat up in bed. Her mind is clear at last, and she told the story of the tragedy in a clear manner, which left no room for doubt. The story is being carefully guarded, but your correspondent heard from a reliable source that it implicates Plew alone as the murderer. A mob is ready to form at a few moments' notice when Mrs. Dunham's story comes out, which will march to Warsaw after Plew. Sheriff Stevenson is prepared to repel raiders with a strong posse. The evidence against John Wilcomb, who was arrested yesterday as an accomplice of Plew, is rather flimsy, and he will probably prove an alibi.

Bills Under the Gun.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Feb. 13.—At all the Catholic churches in this diocese to-day, the pastors read the pronouncement of Bishop Curtis, forbidding bells given with the intention of raising money for religious purposes, or the holding of picnics, fairs, excursions or entertainments of any kind for the benefit of anything religious or charitable, without the approval and consent of the Bishop.
